Merit in a Painter.

The foreign influence on art is still felt in America, and even newspapers must bow before it. They were talking about the Bull Run cyclorama as a work of art.

"Is it really artistic?" asked a reporter.

"Most decidedly," replied the editor.

"Are there any artists of merit engaged in the work?"

"Merit," replied the editor, slapping his hand down on the paste pot. "Merit! Well, I should say so! Why, some of them artists can't speak a word of English."

—Washington Critic.

It is estimated that there are over 50,000 workmen at present on a strike in this country. That represents $100,000 a day lost to the producing classes. Supplement this by the enforced idleness of six times 50,000 persons who are unable to produce anything, and there is to be admitted a very pertinent text for the rampant anarchist. Yet, notwithstanding, the American people propose to settle these matters without getting anywhere near to anarchy. —The Millstone.

Merit Will Tell.

Was never better demonstrated than when "Fryer's Abietene Remedies" were awarded diplomas at the late California State Fair at Sacramento and at the Mechanics Institute at San Francisco. W. Pinniger is agent for these celebrated "Abietene Remedies" and he offers to return your money if they do not give satisfaction. In buying, be sure the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer is on each, as none are genuine without it.

The Perfection.

Of the age in the medical line is the liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal. It is agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, harmless in its nature, painless yet prompt and thorough in its action. For sale by Wm. Pinniger, Reno, Nevada.

Showing Up Hell Gate

Has been a laborious and costly work, but the end justifies the effort. Obstruction in any important channel means disaster. Costly obstructions in the organs of the human body bring invisible disease. They must be cleared away, or physical wreck will follow. Keep the liver in order, and the pure blood courses through the body, conveying life, strength and life. Let it become diseased, and the channels are clogged with impurities which result in disease and death. No other medicine equals Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" for setting upon the liver and purifying the blood.

"The Proper Study of Mankind is Man."

Says the illustrious Pope. If he had in eluded woman in the list, he would have been nearer the truth, if not so poetical. Dr. H. V. Pierce has made them both a part of his study, especially woman, and the peculiar derangements to which her delicate system is liable. Many women in the land who are acquainted with Dr. Pierce only through his "Favorite Prescription," bless him with all their hearts, for he has brought them the peace for all those chronic ailments peculiar to their sex, such as leucorrhoea, prolapsus and other displacements, irregularities, internal "ever" bloating, tendency to internal cancer and other ailments. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

No Trouble to Swallow

Dr. Pierce's "Pillules" (the "Little Liver Pills") and "Pain Expeller." Cure sick or bilious headache, poor stomach and cleanse the system and bowels.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing consumption, severe coughs, croup, asthma, pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case and we consider it the duty of all druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all druggists and dealers in the United States and Canada.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Discovery. By the time he had taken two boxes of pills and two bottles of the discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh 30 pounds. Trial bottle of this great discovery for Consumption free at S. J. Hodgkinson & Co.'s.

FRIDAY APRIL 29, 1887

The amounts paid into the Nevada State School Fund annually have increased from $24,747.07 in 1876 to $125,088.59 in 1886. On January 1st of the present year there was in the State School Fund, in bonds and cash, $800,995.93. In addition to this the State held contracts for purchase of land with parties amounting to $241,158.90, making a total in said fund on January 1st, 1887, of $1,042,154.83. Since then this amount has been increased. With all this money in the State School Fund our people wonder why our school money is short this year; why it is the schools of Carson, Elko and other points in the State will be entirely without funds by May 1st, and why Reno was compelled to vote a special tax to tide over the school year. The explanation rests in the fact that there are two funds—the State School Fund and the General School Fund.

The State School Fund, into which goes all the money derived from the sale of lands, is not of itself available. It is sacred to the memory of our Constitution. It lies buried. The result of an investment of this fund is all that can be used to help pay the expenses of our schools. Without an investment the whole fund is valueless.

The General School Fund is the result of an investment of this money, and from this fund comes most of the money that the State apportions for use in the various counties of the State.

If the money in the State School Fund be well invested the General Fund will be in good condition. The State Constitution, however, limits the investment to United States bonds or bonds of our own State. There being no Nevada bonds to invest in, the money must seek United States bonds, in order to be available. Of all the bonds issued by the United States the four per cents, payable in 1907, are considered the best for investment. These bonds can be purchased in the market only at a premium of 28 per cent. Thus it takes $128,000 to place $100,000 where it will bring in 4 per cent. interest. Under these conditions a trifle over 3 per cent. is all that is obtained on the amount invested. In order to keep the State School Fund intact, as required by the Constitution, this premium of 28 per cent must be paid back out of the interest obtained; so the General School Fund goes seven years without receiving a cent from this investment. To allow the scholars of to-day some benefit from this investment the State Controller has wisely adopted the method of dividing this premium among the years between the date of investment and 1907—the date of maturity of the bonds; so that the interest going into the General School Fund from an investment in U. S. bonds barely exceeds 2½ per cent.

There was in the State School Fund on January 1st, in cash, $147,995.93. On account of increased land sales there is now at least $160,000. This money is lying idle, awaiting an investment, and the only possible investment open is to purchase U. S. bonds at 28 per cent. premium.

In order to keep the money out of the State School Fund and invest where it would do the most good, the Legislature of 1885 enacted the law allowing an applicant for the purchase of land to pay 25 cents an acre at date of application, thus leaving one dollar an acre due and giving him twenty-five years time in which to pay the one dollar at 6 per cent. per annum. The land thus applied for does not belong to the State absolutely. It must be selected by the State in the United States Land Office, and the selection must in turn be approved by the Commissioner of the General Land Office and Secretary of the Interior. Nothing can be done by the State until this land is thus approved by the Interior Department. Consequently, no interest can be obtained as long as it remains unapproved. No lands have been approved for nearly three years by the Interior Department. There is now pending approval in Washington over 600,000 acres, which would mean, if approved, at least $600,000 drawing interest at 6 per cent.

The $600,000 of itself would not do the schools any immediate good, but the interest would. The land thus approved would be contracted, and under contract would draw $35,000 per annum, which would be available for use in the running of our public schools. That we are short in the General School Fund we can charge to the non-approval of our school lands, and the non-approval of these lands we can lay at the door of the present Administration at Washington.

WESTERN DISPATCHES

The Arizona Train Robbers.

BENTON, Arizona, April 29. Intelligence has been received that the train robbers have been spotted, and that it will only be a question of time before they will be captured. The officers do not wish to make immediate arrest for fear sufficient evidence cannot be procured to convict. United States Marshal Meade has telegraphed the mail authorities at Washington, urging them to offer an additional large reward, which request if complied with, will almost insure the capture and a quick conviction. It is now reported that a special officer has been in El Paso for several days watching for this occurrence to take place in that locality, being forewarned by outsiders who got an inkling to the effect that an attempt would be made somewhere on the line of the road, but the robbers took time by the forelock, showing unusual sagacity in making their raid in this vicinity, where hardly anyone suspected such an affair would take place.

Think They Have a Clue.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29. It is believed that an important clue has been obtained to the identity of the South Pacific train robbers. The clue is in the shape of a letter which dropped out of the pocket of an individual who purchased a suit of clothes in a clothing store, this city, about three weeks ago. The letter, which is now in the hands of the police, is signed (Reddie) and gives an elaborate account of a plan to rob a train in Southern California and Arizona. The writer instructed his accomplice to get off at Nogales, and admonished him to be careful in boarding the train upon which it was proposed to commit the robbery. The letter concluded with the following caution: "Paint your face black and be sure and cover your red hair."

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

To be Ordered Discharged.

BERLIN, April 29. Prince Bismarck has informed Herbet, the French Ambassador that he will to-day submit for the Emperor's signature, an order for the release of Schnaebles. It is understood that in the event of his liberation by Germany, the French Government will discharge Schnaebles from the office of Special commissary at Pangy Sur-Moselles.

A Valuable Mine.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 29. An English syndicate is about to purchase the Mulatto mine. Their offer of 600,000 pounds has been accepted. A disputed title had blocked the proceedings. Senator Hearst, of California is said to have offered two million dollars for the mine two years ago and it was refused.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

A $300,000 fire occurred in New York City last night.

—An earthquake shock was felt at Walla Walla about 5 o'clock this morning.

—The Florida Legislature continues to unsuccessfully ballot for a United States Senator.

—Colonel Hughes Hallett, a member of the British Parliament, entertained "Buffalo Bill" in London to-day.

—Charges were to-day preferred against tax Commissioners Coleman and Donnelly, who are charged before Mayor Hewitt, of New York, with having failed to perform the duties of their positions. The removal of the commissioners is asked for.

—Two Federal officers who have been gathering information in Plumas county, Cal., concerning violations of the anti-debris injunctions of the United States Courts, have returned to Marysville, where they report that their lives were threatened by the miners if they persisted in gathering information for the Courts.

Jennie Bowman's Murderers.

LOUISVILLE, April 29. Everything is quiet about the jail this morning, though the talk over the town is that another and more determined effort will be made to lynch the negroes to-night. Among those arrested last night and taken to the station house, were John Letterle and Allen McDonald. The former was a member of the last Kentucky Legislature, and the latter is the leader of the association organized to promote purity in the city government. This morning Jennie Bowman is still sinking. She is worse than at any time yet and may die any moment. The feeling is that her death will precipitate trouble. The answer of the Governor to a call for aid from the militia has been received, and several companies have been ordered to guard the jail.

The agreed signal of eleven taps by the fire department bells in case of an attack on the jail has just been rung at 12:30 p. m. Great crowds of people are pressing toward the jail. The militia are stationed around the building. The police and mob are now fighting.

The Fisheries Muddle.

WASHINGTON, April 29. The State Department is carefully considering the question of Jurisdiction of the United States over the Alaskan fur seal fisheries. The statement made in the Canadian Parliament yesterday to the effect that communications on the subject had been sent by that Government to Secretary Bayard, is denied at the State Department, and it is said that all correspondence touching the fisheries has been carried on directly with the Government of Great Britain. This fact, it is believed, will explain the delay in hearing from the State Department of which complaint has been made at Ottawa. The United States law under which certain British Columbian vessels were seized by the revenue cutter Corwin, last season, are more than 20 years old, and the question of conflict between them and law of nations, is one of peculiarity and difficult of settlement. The fact that this question has been raised, strengthens the Department of State in its determination to continue to pursue a temperate course, it has so far followed in the negotiations with Great Britain concerning the Canadian fisheries. The vast Alaskan fisheries are thought to be quite as important to this country as are the Nova Scotian in-shore fisheries, and the State Department is necessarily obliged to so shape its construction of the laws and treaties as to preserve the right of the United States to the exclusive enjoyment of the Alaskan fisheries, while maintaining the treaty rights of our fishermen in North American waters. It is held that there cannot be two constructions of the law, and any position assumed by the Department must apply equally to the Atlantic and Pacific waters.

General Grant's Presents.

WASHINGTON, April 29. The Grant relics which have been for several months safely guarded in one of the private rooms of the National Museum, are now being placed upon public exhibition. Yesterday two handsome plush-lined cases, filled with articles from the collection, were placed in the north hall of the museum near the main entrance. They contained presentation swords, gold-headed canes, caskets, medallion and many other costly and elegant articles presented by different people to General Grant. Many are souvenirs of his trip around the world. There is a splendid collection of Japanese coins, one series of seven pieces are old Japanese gold coins of huge size, being valued at $5,000. There are also invitation cards, menu cards, reminders of entertainments given in his honor, engrossed on gold plates. One invitation card to a masked ball given at San Francisco upon General Grant's arrival at that city on his return from his famous tour, is engraved on solid gold, and was enclosed in a silver envelope with address engraved upon it. In the right hand corner is a two cent stamp, and in the left the usual "If not delivered in ten days return to etc." The articles shown, besides their historical interest, are of great intrinsic value.

Farragut's Flagship.

WASHINGTON, April 29. A strong effort is making, with prospects of success, to save the celebrated old flagship Hartford, now at Mare Island, from condemnation. The people of the Pacific coast have been particularly active in the matter, and a California delegation, consisting of Representative Thompson, State Senators McCudden and McPike, have reached this city, bearing copies of resolutions passed by the Chamber of Commerce and other commercial bodies of San Francisco, strongly urging the continuation of the Hartford in active service. The delegation had a long interview on the subject with Secretary Whitney yesterday, and look for a decision in a short time. As the estimates for repairing the Hartford are believed to aggregate less than 20 per cent. of the cost of replacing the vessel, the matter of ordering the repairing to be made is within Secretary Whitney's discretion.

A Stringent Quarantine.

DENVER, Colo., April 29. The State Sanitary Board has decided on three more quarantines; against Iowa, against the Omaha stock yards and against the Kansas City stock yards. This compels cattle from these points to undergo an inspection before being admitted into the State. Governor Marmaduke, of Missouri, was disposed to object to the Colorado quarantine against Missouri, but the members of the Colorado Sanitary Board say they have good authority for believing that pleuro-pneumonia existed in Missouri, and will be compelled to rigidly enforce the law in this matter.

—The Executive Committee of a New York City Assembly of the Knights of Labor had been held for trial, on a charge of conspiracy for ordering a strike.

Entirely New.
We were attracted by a lot of cut plushes and velvets which were just unpacked at F. Levy & Bro's. dry goods store. These articles were sent to them by their New York agent and are without a doubt the prettiest goods in the market. Levy Bros. are truly enterprising and our ladies will have a chance to invest.

A Close Call.

Last night a drunken tramp who had been driven out of the waiting room at the Depot Hotel, went into the new baggage room, which is nearly completed, started a fire on the floor and laid down by it and went to sleep, where he was soon after found by the night watchman, but not until the two-inch flooring had been burned through. The fellow was lodged in jail.

THE SEWER SYSTEM.
What Experience Has Told in Other Cities and Towns.

RENO, April 29.

Editor Gazette—It would be an instance of a blunder, being worse than a crime, for the authorities to make a mistake in the system of sewers they give to Reno. It is always the impulse of the uninformed to get sewers many times larger than is necessary, and the result is that accumulations on the bottom obstruct them, and little by little a dam is built up that soon chokes them up entirely. In the case of sewers of a proper size it is an easy thing to turn on a head of water to flush them, while a big sewer never does get washed out clean. It is to give some support to what I believe to be the wise determination of the Board to use the smallest pipe that will have the undoubted capacity to do the work that I ask for space in your columns.

The passion for too large sewers seems to be an almost universal one. The feeling is that it is best to make the conduit "big enough, anyhow," and as a result, nearly every drain that is laid, in town or country, is so much larger than is needful that the expense of keeping it clean is often the most serious item of cost connected with it. It cannot be too often reiterated that the great purpose of modern water sewerage is to remove immediately and entirely beyond the occupied portions of the town, all manner of domestic waste and filth before it has time to enter into decomposition, thus preventing an accumulation of dangerous matter, and obviating the necessity of employing men in the unwholesome work of hand-cleaning cesspools and sewers of deposit.

Again, too much allowance is frequently made for the accessions from lateral drains at various points between the beginning and outlet of the main sewer. It must be remembered that though a pipe may be full at the head, it may, by reason of increasing velocity of the stream, be but two-thirds full in the middle, and but half full at the mouth. Not only this, but these accessions, if by junctions at an obtuse angle, or Y, offer but little resistance, and are frequently found to increase the velocity, without swelling the sectional area. A right angle, or T junction, must necessarily offer more resistance; hence the Y should always be used when practicable.

In 1879 the National Board of Health made careful experiments in several cities during the dry weather season when the use of city water and the resultant sewage would naturally be the greatest. I quote from the report:

A sewer in Madison Avenue, with a length, including its branches of about 7,000 feet, the district being about one-half built up with houses of good class, carried a stream 3.5 inches deep through a notch (in a weir) 4 inches wide.

A sewer in Providence, 1,391 feet long, draining forty-one houses with a population of 257, at its greatest flow, filled a 6-inch pipe 1/4 inch deep.

A sewer in Burlington, Vt., 2,790 feet long, draining fifty-four houses with a population of 325 persons, showed at its greatest flow a depth of 1.2 inches deep in a 6-inch pipe.

A sewer in Milwaukee, draining an area of 70 acres, containing 500 houses and a population of 3,035 persons, at its greatest flow filled a 6-inch pipe 5.5 inches deep.

The outlet sewer of the Hudson River State Hospital at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where the use of water is equal to that of an urban population of 2,000, had its greatest flow carried through a 6-inch sewer to a depth of 3.25 inches.

The State Lunatic Hospital at Taunton, Mass., with 659 inmates and a most abundant water supply, has two separate outlets, one for general use and one for the laundry only. The greatest flow of the former reached a depth in a 6-inch pipe of 1.75 inches, and the laundry flow attained through a pipe of the same size, when its ten large washing machines were emptied simultaneously, a depth of 2.25 inches. The flow from both drains, supposing the maximum of each to be concurrent, would have been carried through a pipe 4.58 inches in diameter, if flowing at the average velocity of the two. It is suggestive that it had been seriously proposed that the State of Massachusetts should pay one-half the cost of a 5-foot sewer more than a mile long because of its contributing to the city of Taunton this small stream of sewage which would be amply accommodated by a 6-inch pipe.

The most striking result of these gaugings was that developed in the city of St. Louis, where a sewer 7.25 feet in diameter drained an area containing 1,370 houses, occupied by a population of 3,200. This sewer had its greatest flow carried through a 12-inch pipe, which was filled to a depth of less than 7 inches. A calculation of the actual discharge of this pipe showed that the sewer must have received a very large amount of ground water, and that the public supply must have been most wastefully used, for the discharge was over 1,000,000 gallons per day, or more than 130 gallons for each member of the population; that is, the flow was as great as it should be with a population of over 30,000 using only an abundant amount of water.

The teachings of experience in regulating the sizes of sewers, is that no sewer should be used of a smaller diameter than 6 inches, because it will not be safe to adopt a smaller size than 4-inch for house-drains, and the sewer must be large enough surely to remove whatever may be delivered by these.

On the other hand, it may be assumed that no sewer should be more than 6 inches in diameter until it and its branches have accumulated a sufficient flow at the hour of greatest use to fill this size half full, because the use of a larger size would be wasteful, and because when a sufficient ventilating capacity is secured, as it is in the use of a 6-inch pipe, the ventilation becomes less complete as the size increases, leaving a larger volume of contained air to be moved by friction of the current or by extraneous influences, or to be acted upon by changes of temperature and of volume of flow within the sewer. The size should be increased gradually, and only so rapidly as is made necessary by the filling of the sewer more than half full at the hour of greatest flow.

Sewers of a proper size can be flushed automatically every 24 hours by a tank costing $35 or $40, which is fed by a small stream and discharged with a rush when the water reaches the height at which the trap is set. One such tank should be placed at the head of every branch.

In the case of the City of Memphis, which became so unhealthy, the people of the Mississippi Valley thought seriously of raising money to control it and blotting it from the map in very self-defense. The whole city beneath the surface as well as on top of the ground reeked with filth. It had 7,000 vaults, many of them full to overflowing. In 1878 there were 5,000 deaths in 80 days, and in 1879 the epidemic broke out again. A plan of sewerage the place was adopted, consisting of two systems coming together in a 20-inch sewer to the mouth and discharging through a 30-inch pipe, below low water mark. A main pipe, 15 inches wide goes up one side of the bayou and a 12-inch pipe on the other. The pipe is gradually reduced and all tributaries are either six or eight inches. This is for a population of 60,000 people. The system is thoroughly ventilated with 7,000 4-inch standing pipes, and is flushed daily. The system has been adopted in many towns since and gives entire satisfaction.

In Reno there is a good fall, and if the best lines are chosen small pipes will be better in every way if properly laid. No mistakes should be made in laying the pipe or in selecting the routes. It should not cost $10,000 to do the work and do it well. It looks as if the proper thing to do was to run a main sewer east and west with short lines running into it and discharging each of the best plan would be to carry the pipes down and discharge on the State farm, where the sewage could all be worked right into the soil with a nil effect or disagreeable result to anyone. The importance of this subject is the excuse for the length of my letter. Respectfully,
R. L. FULTON.

Joseph Wells arrived this morning from San Francisco, on his way to his former home at Bodie, where he went to settle up some business.

The Thalia Company.
The manager of this company, which has been playing four weeks at the Baldwin in San Francisco, writes John Piper that if a sufficient subscription is taken to make it an object for them to play here, they will appear on May 7th. The Thalia is a first-class comic opera company, composed of 55 members. C. A. Thurston will open the subscription books to-morrow at 8 o'clock at his store on Virginia street. All who will attend should sign immediately, as the company cannot be secured otherwise than by showing that it will pay them to visit Reno. Should they come they will appear here for only one night. Reserved seats $1, as usual, and guarantee must be given by Saturday.

A Nuisance.
It may be lots of fun for the boys to spear the floating wood in the river from the bridge and to pile it up in the walks of that structure. It is certainly a pleasant pastime to watch their accurate aim; but it is decidedly unpleasant and very annoying to ladies to be compelled to climb over a pile of loose wood every time in crossing the river to and from town.

Call and see the stock of flowers at the store next to the Palace bakery on Virginia street. A new supply of chrysanthemums, verbenas and pansies just received. Prices extremely low.

The Kindergarten.
The Reno Kindergarten school ought to claim the attention of all thinking people, who have little children to take care of. They are taught the beginning of many useful things there, and in the combination of industry with book-learning, the little ones do not find the path to knowledge a hard road to travel, but are so amused and interested all the time, that they do not seem to be learning hard, difficult things, when they really are getting the grand foundation to all their schooling in after years.
